

The Adventures of
The Dragon King

Story and Illustrations by Julian Wagner

The dragon king woke in the morning.

He was very angry.

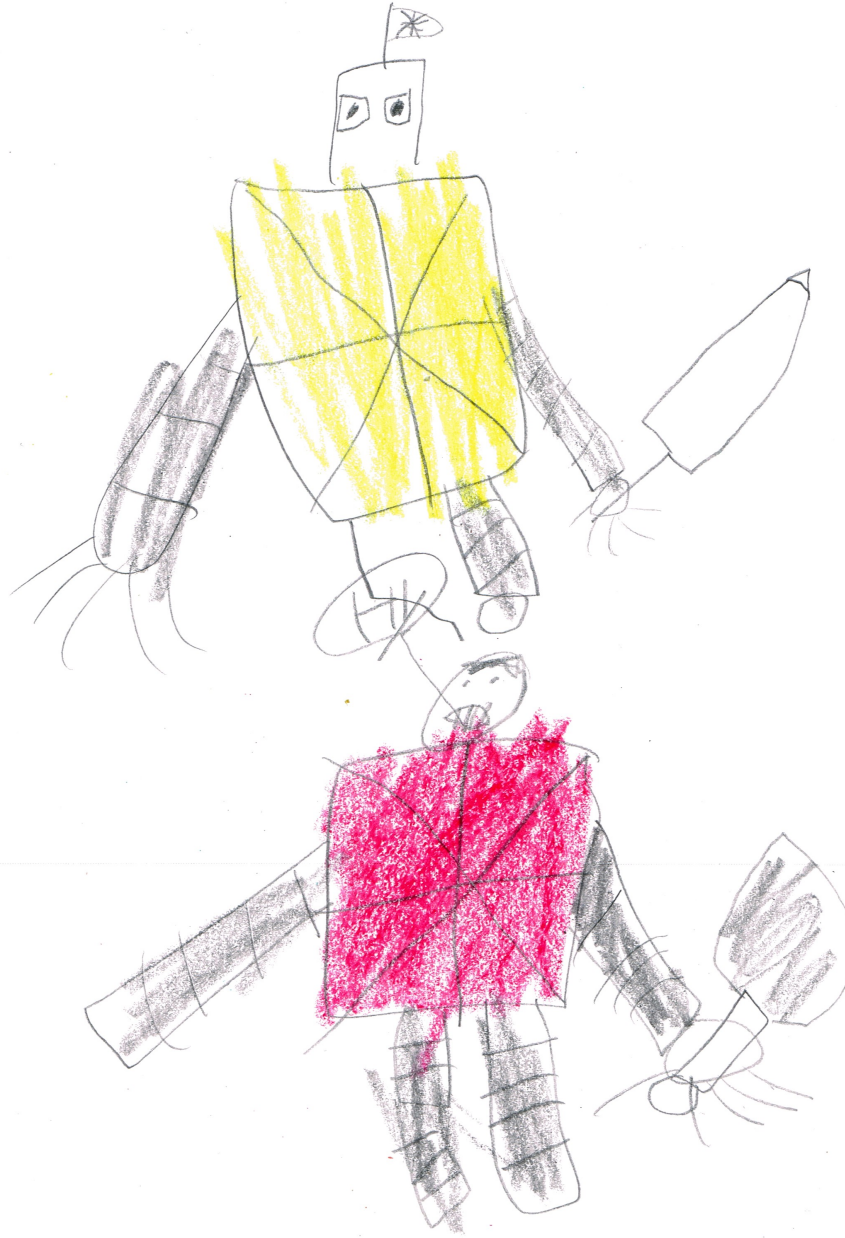

While he was sleeping, two knights snuck into his lair and stole his crown.

The dragon king went to the knight's castle
on the side of the mountain.

The knights fought the dragon with arrows and swords.

“The dragon is not hurt by my sword,” said
the first knight.

“The dragon is not hurt by my arrows,” said
the second knight.

“We will escape through our secret tunnel,”
said the first knight.

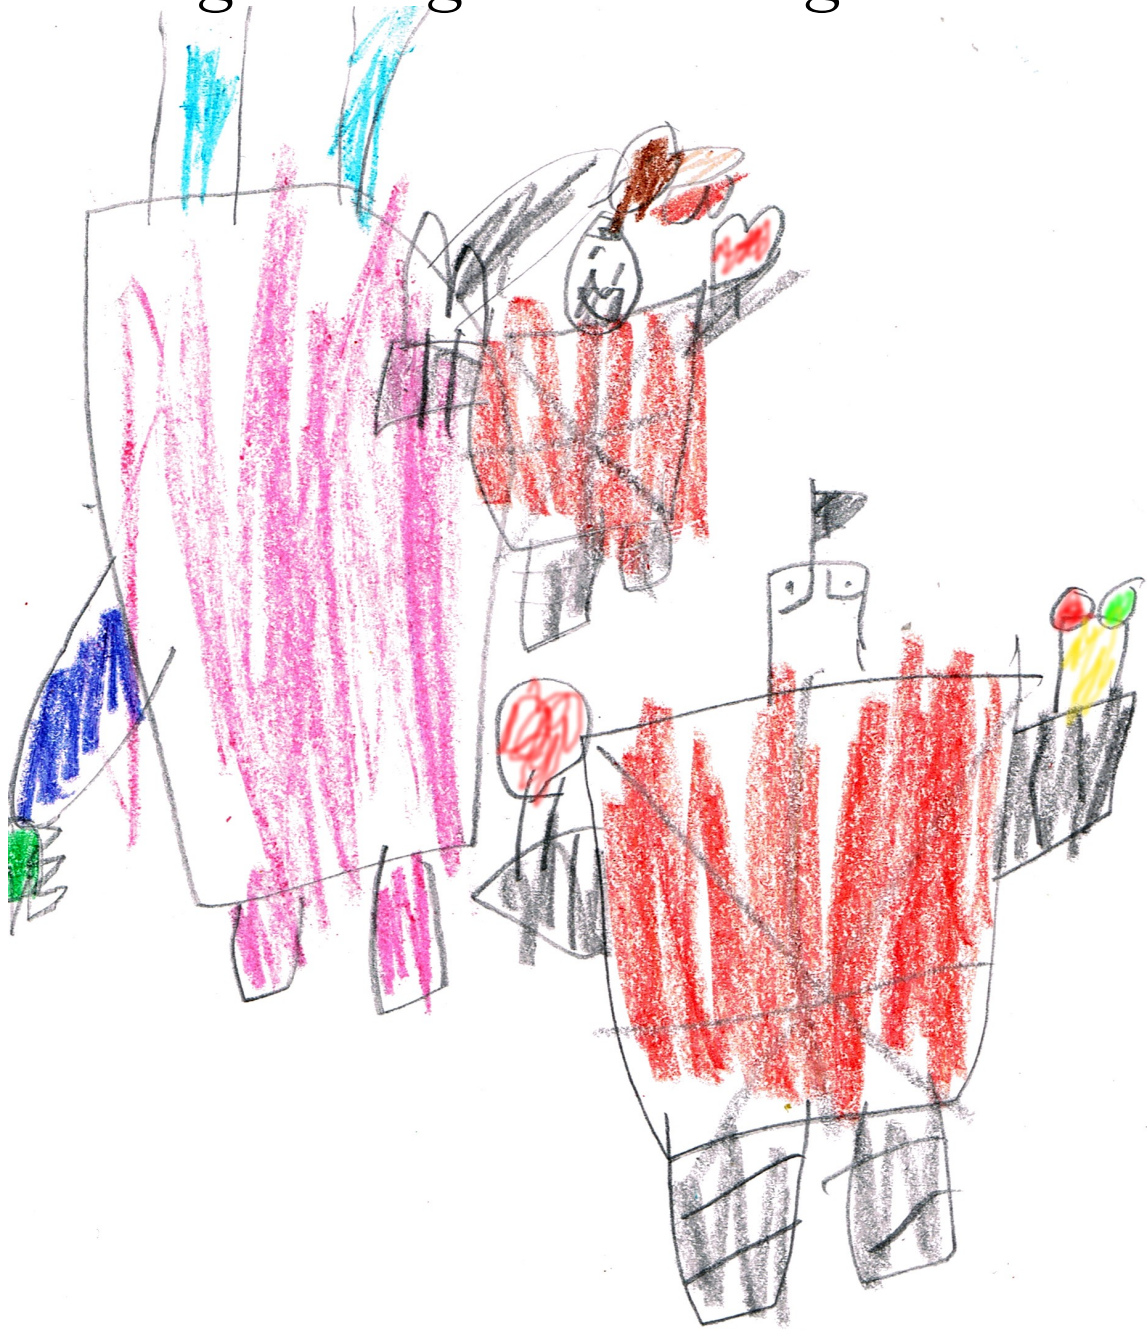

They took the crown, a torch, extra clothes,
and food for their escape.

The dragon king flew around the mountain, waiting for the knights to come out.

When the knights came out of the tunnel,
the dragon king was waiting for them.

The knights said they were sorry.
They gave back the crown and offered food to the dragon king.

The dragon king wore his crown.

He ate the food.

The dragon king was happy.

Copyright ©2014 by Julian Wagner

All Rights Reserved.

NLMMGC Press, Five Forks, SC